

(a) the carrier: one field, and it contracts when it moves

(b) the same clock, at rest and moving: the moving one ticks slower

(c) universality is curves collapsing, not numbers agreeing

(d) the carrier that works is isochronous, so  $G^*$  is still unbought

